Kyle, 28, was born in South Africa, raised in New Zealand, and is a true people person, motivated by seeing people grow and find happiness.

Due to the variety of environments he's lived in, his active lifestyle and even having Bell's Palsy as a child, Kyle was experiencing skin laxity in his forehead and on both sides of his face. Rebecca has controlled signs of aging through being active, eating right and getting enough sleep but it didn't stop inevitable fine lines from appearing on her face. Her treatment was all about enhancing what she already had, filling fine lines and making it look as natural as possible.
